Politics Picks Up In This Area . . .

Politics is getting a little more exciting in this area now. The Wallace forces are wide awake and are announcing state and county-wide rallies being held this week, when you will find officially announced by paid political advertisement in this issue of The Clipper. Others are expected to wake-up soon, announcing the opening of their campaign in Coffee County.

We like political action from governor right down to coroner.

Every Merchant Could Enjoy More Profits . . .

The owners of this newspaper are trying to publish a real newspaper but we're also human and we make no bones about "scratching the backs of those who scratch ours." Many of our subscribers enjoy reading the advertisements as well as the news reports. We have been told many times in our newspaper years by readers, that they like to know where they can get the merchandise they want. And certainly we can vouch for the fact that the merchants who keep their names before the readers every week are the ones who are remembered when a person gets ready to shop. Any town where the merchants fail to do constructive advertising and just sit or stand and wait for customers are only going to have a few to patronize them in comparison to what they could have. Non-advertising merchants may get enough business to stay in business, provided they are satisfied with the little that drops their way, but the receipts would be so much higher and with little more effort if they did regular advertising backed up with the "goods." Don't criticize anyone for going out of town to shop until you first take stock of your own faults. There is always a good reason for a person going somewhere else to shop. They know before they leave home where the merchandise wanted can be bought and the price for it. seldom does anyone leave their own city for some distance place to shop because they had rather do so. Nor does anyone prefer to order by mail-order catalogue the merchandise they know they can get at home and at the same time see and inspect. Merchants who fail to advertise where it can be read today or tomorrow are forced to change more for the merchandise they sell in order to remain in business.

Customers have learned that merchants who advertise are also the merchants who have nothing to hide and are offering the best prices.

It is up to us as to whether shoppers buy here at home or travel elsewhere. And we're to blame as merchants for every customer who travels to some other town, taking revenue from our town, thereby, helping to build some other city. It is up to us to keep our money here at home and see the results of it travel around, building a better and bigger Elba.

Some merchants will say "we just can't afford to advertise" and it is true that advertising expenses, because of production costs, does run into quite an expense, yet it is an expense that we can't afford to eliminate and our business prosper. We can always begin with a small advertising budget, well planned, and increase that budget each month, quarter or annually. It takes a little extra work but if we have the energy to be in business we should have enough get-up-and-go to build and increase that business. We can give you actual proof of what advertising has done for one particular merchant. He started with a small amount of merchandise and in a small building. His advertising was small to begin with, about 30 inches of space, but ran every week. It was soon increased to 40 inches, then to a half-page, to three-quarter page and now uses a full page every week of the year, which has now been done for a number of years. He started in debt and it was necessary to borrow money to pay his first advertising account. Now he has what most of us consider, a big cash bank account and discounts all his bills. The small building has been increased many times larger than it was in the beginning. That particular merchant gives his newspaper advertising credit for his success which he backs up with price, service and good merchandise. He has customers from miles away because of his constant advertising program. All his success has been accomplished within the past 12 years and that firm enjoys one of the best businesses anywhere around. He saw the possibility of progress and he took advantage of the opportunity.

Elba Soldier Serves On MP Ranger Duty At Ft. Stewart, Ga.

Sgt. Zefen Flowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Flowers of Elba, continues to do a man's job in tracking down whiskey stills, pursuing game porches, enforcing Ft. Stewart's fish and wildlife regulations, looking for people lost in the woods, these are all in the line of duty for him and his MP Rangers in Georgia.

Sgt. Flowers' six-man force is responsible for patrolling the entire 280,000 acres of Ft. Stewart outside the cantonment area. And the extensive MP experience and off-duty interests of the Ranger NOIC equip him for the "little bit of everything" that the job involves.

Most of Sgt. Flowers' duty day is spent patrolling the hunting and fishing on the reservation. His duty is made both more successful and more enjoyable by his being an avid hunter and fisherman himself.

The Rangers withdraw fish and wildlife passes for violations which include fishing or hunting in prohibited areas and at prohibited times and the use of unauthorized firearms. Many illegal fish traps are confiscated in the Rangers' patrol of the more than 50 miles of reservation waterways, Sgt. Flowers said.

Sgt. Flowers and his men are among the few who can find their way through the vast Ft. Stewart area. And the dense expanse of the uninhabited area provides the Rangers with another job: rescuing people who become lost.

Assigned to the MP Rangers in March 1961, Sgt. Flowers previously was MP desk Sergeant at Ft. Stewart. He went to Ft. Stewart in June 1958 from the Stuttgart sub-area in Germany. He served with the 772nd MP Bn. in Taejeon, Korea, from March 1951 until March 1953. While stationed at Fort Benning in 1954 and 1955, he was assigned as MP desk Sergeant in Phenix City during the clean-up of the notorious "Sin City". The Elba native entered the active Army in December 1950.

Are

 fair?

We don't think so. 88 per cent of all prices in the United States are administered*. This simply means they are fixed by administrative decisions of managements of companies. This practice is possible only where the companies in question have monopolistic control in the industry. This is why the healthy competition of Rural Electric is helpful to all users of electricity.

sufficient unto the day

Are you a worry expert?

Some people gather up all the worries of the past and combine them with the anxieties of the future. These they add to the burdens of the present — a huge bundle indeed.

What a difference it would make in their peace and happiness if they could take each day as it comes.

Jesus said, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." He not only taught but He lived this lesson. Toil and misunderstanding filled the days of His ministry. Yet He met each one with calm assurance. Forgetting the past, He faced each tomorrow with inward peace.

This peace He willed to His followers through all the ages. Come to church and learn how to make this heritage your own.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wallace And Folsom Lead In Straw Poll Conducted In Elba

A second straw vote was conducted in Elba during the past two weeks. Last week a poll was taken at the Rotary Club when a number of citizens other than Rotary members participated in the poll. In that poll Wallace received 15 votes and Folsom 13.

In the poll this week, taken in a popular cafe, guests were invited to vote in the straw poll. 20 people participated in that poll. Wallace received 12 votes, Folsom 4, Galtion 2, Boutwell 1, and deGraffenreid 1. Comor, Farish, Henderson and Jennings failed to receive a vote in that poll.

According to the Sylvaugh News a straw vote on the gubernatorial candidates was taken recently in Rockford. One voted for Wallace and one for Folsom. As Rockford goes, so goes Goodwater, says the Sylvaugh News.

In a statewide poll among Alabama newspaper editors, Folsom is the No. 1 man with Wallace second. But the poll seemed to indicate that there would be a run-off in which Folsom might find the plowing sticky.

In several areas it was claimed that it is Folsom all the way and with deGraffenreid as the other candidate gaining some headway.

Everywhere it is admitted that Folsom is the man to beat, though in most areas the governor's race still creates little interest among voters. A few editors think Folsom will be elected while others think the runner will be hard on him in the run-off.

Education is apparently the issue of most interest instead of the racial question.

Miss Mildred Rhodes, Kinston, is winner of the Coffee County Beef Cook Off sponsored by the Coffee County Cowbells and will go to Montgomery on March 15th to participate in the final cook-off. Miss Rhodes will be a guest of the Alabama Cowbells on Thursday, March 15th at 12:30 for a beef luncheon. The final contest will be in the afternoon and she will be the guest of the Alabama Cattleman's Association, together with the Junior Cattleman at 6:00 o'clock p. m. for a beef-burger supper and the opening performance of the World's Championship Rodeo.
